

Visual Art Hybrid Workshops

actsofjennius.com • Jennifer Hill

Poetry Comics

If sitting down to write a poem feels too scary, but doodling and writing together comes more naturally, poetry comics is perfect for you. Explore artists and writers who have worked in this hybrid form, and create some of your own poetry panels that draw from the language of comics, images, panels, and speech balloons. Adaptable for all ages, and available online or in-person.

The Altered Page

A branch of visual and found poetry, altered pages are a mixed media form where the artist changes the original text on the page to discover a new meaning. Explore the history and artists who developed this form, and make your own pages by upcycling an old book. Online and in-person availability.

Emotion Maps

Create a map of the aquifers and archipelagos in your emotional landscape. Build your geographical and emotional vocabulary as you mix and match to create rich metaphors of your inner world. Move from the map on the page to a map on the stage with extensions in story sharing and theatre. Online and in-person availability.